

6516209473.txt

Deregulation allows the AM/FM stations to combine into national organizations, but the broadcast companies are trying to block satellite radio from expanding into localities. If I want to pay for premium radio, as I do for cable television, the government should not restrict this competition. You can not legislate technology away!